Common questions

My apps aren't blocking.

Open the iPhone Settings app → Screen Time → make sure Commercial has permission. Reopen Commercial and tap the lock button.

How do I unlock my apps?

Tap the big lock button on the home screen. Watch the ads (you set how many in Settings). Once they finish, your apps are unlocked for the duration you chose.

How do I change my unlock settings while my apps are blocked?

You can't — that's intentional. Settings are locked while your apps are locked. Watch ads to unlock, change your settings while you're in the unlock window, then they'll re-lock when the time is up.

What about Schedule mode?

Schedule mode automatically blocks your apps during the windows you set (e.g. 9 AM–5 PM, weekdays). It runs in the background — you don't need to open Commercial for it to work. Toggle it on in Settings.

Christian Mode?

When toggled on in Settings, opening a blocked app shows a Bible verse or encouraging reminder instead of the default lock screen. Toggle it off any time.

I want to refund — there's no refund right?

Commercial is free. There's nothing to refund. The ads pay us when you watch them to unlock your apps.

Privacy?

We don't collect your data. The apps you choose to block stay on your device through Apple's Screen Time framework — we never see them. Ads are served by Google AdMob; full details in our Privacy Policy.
